

UNIVERSITY of MARYLAND
SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

PARI: PREVENTION OF ADOLESCENT RISKS INITIATIVE

Prevention of Adolescent Risk Initiative

PARI PERIODICAL

#pursuingmeaningfulwork

January 2019 (Week Three)

To commemorate National Human Trafficking Awareness Month, each week during the month of January 2019 we will highlight facts about human trafficking.

Week Three:

1. Did you know that child sex trafficking is the recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, obtaining, or advertising of a minor child for the purpose of a commercial sex act? This involves the exchange of anything of value, such as money, drugs, a place to stay, a ride, or food, for sexual activity. (<http://www.missingkids.com/theissues/trafficking>)
2. Did you know under Maryland Law, that child sex trafficking is defined as child abuse? When reporting child sex trafficking, a maltreater is not required to be the caregiver, and furthermore, a trafficker is not required to be involved.
3. Did you know anyone under the age of 18 can be convicted for prostitution in the state of Maryland? Although under Federal law a minor is unable to legally consent to sex, Maryland has not passed a Safe Harbor Law to prevent youth from being convicted and prosecuted.

National Human Trafficking Awareness Month: January 2019

Understanding Human Trafficking of Children and Youth

Human trafficking is defined as the exploitation of an individual for profit through forced labor or commercial sex. It affects all populations: adults, children, men, women, foreign nationals and U.S. citizens, and all economic classes. Federal human trafficking laws define minors involved in commercial sex acts as victims of trafficking, and requires state child welfare agencies to identify and provide services for trafficked youth and those at risk. In Maryland, child sex trafficking refers to the trafficking of anyone under the age of 18 and is a form of child abuse. Maryland human trafficking laws, updated in 2012, opened the door for minor victims to receive child welfare services, rather than a juvenile justice response. This change also required mandated reporters to report suspected child sex trafficking victims to local Department of Social Services to investigate and respond to child needs.

The University of Maryland School of Social Work (UMSSW), PARI in collaboration with other vital collaborating partners, received funding from the Children's Bureau, Department of Justice, and Casey Family Services to build capacity in Maryland to address the issue of human trafficking within the child and youth population. PARI has built internal infrastructure between state and local agencies with the development of the Human Trafficking training for mental health providers, law enforcement, child welfare workers, and other community providers to ensure that children and youth who have been trafficked or at-risk for being trafficking have access to an array of comprehensive, high-quality services. In addition, PARI staff have been instrumental in the coordination of Multi-Disciplinary Teams (MDTs) across the state to enhance coordination between agencies involving victims of trafficking. Our partners at the SAFE Center have been instrumental in working with PARI to address labor trafficking of youth victims across Maryland.

To learn more about human trafficking in Maryland, feel free to visit our website, or stop by one of our human trafficking awareness events.

Top 5 Ways to Get Involved in Human Trafficking Awareness Month

1. Share your passion and knowledge with others! We challenge you to find 10 friends or contacts and share tell them about human trafficking in Maryland. Use our labor trafficking infographic and/or sex trafficking infographic, share our social media posts and encourage them to sign up for our PARI Periodical for more information.

2. Host a resources drive to encourage your community to donate items for victims

- support. Here are a current list of needs for survivors of human trafficking.
3. Want to learn more about human trafficking? Attend a community training event, the next one is scheduled for January 12, 2019. Share the attached event flyer.
 4. Be a conscientious and informed consumer. Ask who picked your crabs, tomatoes or made your clothes, or check out the Department of Labor's List of Goods Produced by Child Labor or Forced Labor. Take steps to prevent human trafficking in supply chains.
 5. Follow the three C's: Be Compassionate, Be Cautious, and Make the Call....Call the National Human Trafficking Resource Center to report what you're see: 1-888-373-7888.

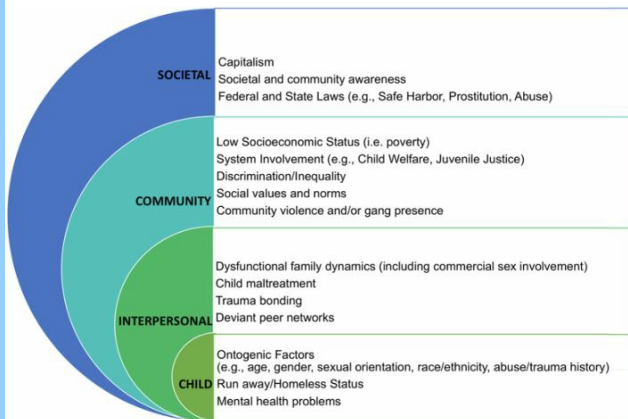

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT PARI?

PARI, Prevention of Adolescent Risks Initiative is one of the Ruth Young Center for Families and Children's newest initiatives created to increase visibility and knowledge to address adolescent health issues. The federal grant projects under the PARI umbrella include:

- The Baltimore Teen Pregnancy Prevention Initiative for Out-of-Home Youth (BTPPI)
- Child Sex Trafficking Victims Initiative (CSTVI)
- Maryland Human Trafficking Victims Initiative (MHTI)

The Child Sex Trafficking Victims Initiative (CSTVI) created a traumagenic social ecological framework. In a recent article, A Traumagenic Social Ecological Framework for Understanding and Intervening with Sex Trafficked Children and Youth, Dr. Finigan-Carr and Children's Bureau colleagues utilize a four-tiered approach on how factors at each level interact and contribute to youths' vulnerability for sex trafficking through mechanisms including social norms. To learn more, refer to the Child And Adolescent Social Work Journal Article, doi:10.1007/s10560-018-0588-7

The Maryland Human Trafficking Initiative (MHTI) is currently planning for the third annual Maryland Child Trafficking Conference. The date for the next conference is August 7, 2019.

Save the Date!!!

What do we know...

- System involved youth have unique challenges to address to reduce risky sexual behaviors.
- Pubertal development is associated with sex without a condom and teen pregnancy in this sample of system involved youth.
- Marijuana use is associated with both sex without a condom and teen pregnancy in this sample.

The Baltimore Teen Pregnancy Prevention Initiative for Out-of-Home Youth (BTPPI) will present findings on data related to pubertal development, using the sample from this project at the Society of Social Work Research (SSWR) Conference 2019 in San Francisco, California as part of a symposium presentation on Saturday, January 19, 2019.

Dr. Nadine Finigan-Carr
Research Assistant Professor

Director, Prevention of Adolescent
Risks Initiative (PARI)

Assistant Director, Ruth Young Center for Families and Children

University of Maryland
School of Social Work
(410) 706-7157
nfinigan-carr@ssw.umaryland.edu

Thoughts from our Director

Happy New Year and thank you for being a part of our network to prevent adolescent risk behaviors. We here at PARI are looking forward to the future in 2019 and beyond. This year some of our funding will end. However, new funding opportunities are on the horizon. As such, I am amazed by what can be done in support of children and youth in our community.

January is Human Trafficking Awareness and Prevention Month. It is a time to pledge our solidarity with victims of human trafficking and raise awareness about, and work to end, this insidious crime. During this month, we will be participating in events and disseminating information about human trafficking both in person and on social media. We invite you to participate by supporting our events in person and signal boosting online. Follow and use the hashtag #EndChildTraffickingMD so that we can all work together to be a unified voice to combat trafficking.

